'Eja joi'. Takayo To Leave

Japanese Student's
Happy Year Here
Ends Saturday

By GLENN SCHOTTEN

Takayo Kinoshita sat, her hands folded decorously on her pink-orange kimono, looking out over the June rose garden at the Lehwalds, a wistful look in her black eyes.

"It's very sad," she murmured in a kitten-soft voice.

"Eja joi. We have this Buddhist proverb in my Japan. Two friends who meet must some day part. That is what it means. It is that way now." The only show of emotion was a dainty swallowing that betrayed her inner feeling.

TOMORROW Takayo will take her last look at the rose garden she loved, at the C. J. Lehwalds with whom she has lived since last August, and in Salem. Soon she will be winging her way on a Flying Tiger plane back to the Land of the Rising Sun from where she came last autumn to study at Salem Senior High as an exchange student.

This is the first time the 17-year-old girl, never away from her native land till now, knew the frustrating experience of love for two countries.

"I want you to tell the people I was enjoyed to be in Salem and want to thank all my friends for their kindness," Takayo said before departing. But the feeling underneath, you felt, was more than her words expressed. Valiant as she appears external, Turn To TAKAYO, Page 8

No Progress Reported In Ford Strike

Mediators Confer
Again Today In Settlement Effort

CLEVELAND (AP) — Federal mediators set another meeting today in an effort to settle the Ford Motor Co. strike at the suburban Walton Hills stamping plant. It is estimated that it is costing the 77,000 idled Ford workers nearly $2 million daily in wages and fringe benefits.

Mediators reported no progress after a five-hour session Thursday night with negotiators for Ford and the United Auto Workers Union. Estimate of the strike's cost to workers was made on the basis of average wages and fringe benefits paid to Ford workers throughout the country.

James L. MacPherson, regional director of the U.S. Mediation and Conciliation Service, joined the talks after his offer was accepted by both sides Thursday. He was assisted by David S. Tanzman, Federal mediator from Detroit who has handled auto industry matters.

The strike, which started June 7, involves production standards issues, including how many quarter panels should be produced in one hour. The Walton Hills plant has 3,200 workers.

Production at all 16 Ford passenger car plants in the nation has been halted because of lack of parts produced at the Walton Hills plant. Truck production is continuing.

Ford workers across the country who are laid off because of the strike will get an estimated $2,060,000 weekly in unemployment compensation payments. Workers employed in Ohio, Texas, Virginia and Georgia are not eligible for such payments, however. Ohio has more than 26,000 Ford workers.

Francis Case, South Dakota Senator, Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Francis Case, R-S.D., a 25-year veteran of Congress, died today. He was 65.

Case, born in Evers, Iowa, on Dec. 9, 1896, served seven terms in the House and two in the Senate.

He was the ranking Republican member of the Senate Public Works Committee.

Case long had been associated with legislation concerning water conservation and the nation's highways.

He was treated at the nearby Bethesda Naval Hospital in mid-March for what was described as a mild heart involvement after an earlier bout with the flu.

He was taken back by ambulance from the Capitol Thursday night and died at 9:19 a.m. today.

Case, a former newspaper editor, raised Hereford cattle and saddle horses on his ranch near Custer in South Dakota's Black Hills. He was an expert horseman.

It was a Case resolution, adopted in 1939-40 while he was in the House, which produced the studies that led to authorization of the Missouri River Flood Control Act of 1944.

He also authored, and got through Congress, a provision reserving half of the power generated from Big Bend Dam on the Missouri River for use in South Dakota.

Killed by 215-205 Vote

Farm Bill Defeated

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's farm bill is dead.

The surprise defeat of the far-reaching bill in the House Thursday night by a 215-205 vote was all the more shocking to administration leaders because up to the last minute they thought they would win.

The sudden death came at 8:47 p.m. in the tension-filled House; 48 Democrats, not all Southern conservatives by any means, helped 167 Republicans do it. Only one Republican—Rep. Phil Weaver of Nebraska—voted with 204 Democrats against scuttling the bill by sending it back to committee.

The White House immediately issued a statement saying the defeat "will cost the taxpayers of the United States at least an additional $1 billion next year and return the country to the ruinous deficit farm programs with accompanying growth in our already staggering $9 billion surplus."

"It is regrettable that the Republican members of the House, with only one exception, chose to make party issue of this matter instead of voting in the national interest. They will now have to bear the responsibility for the continuing chaos in our agricultural surplus situation."

The statement made no reference to the Democrats who voted against the bill.

The powerful American Farm Bureau Federation, which led the fight against the bill, called the House action a "victory for farmers, consumers and taxpayers," adding "the only losers were the political empire builders in Washington."

The bill would have placed mandatory acreage reductions and national marketing quotas for the first time on feed grains and wheat. These crops have contributed most to the massive surplus stocks now held by the government.

Such controls were the only hope of reducing costs of federal price support programs, backers of the measure claimed.

The Senate already has passed a bill very similar to the one snuffed out in the House. The Senate measure could be brought to the House floor if it is approved by the House Agriculture Committee. But this did not appear likely because the committee approved its own bill by a margin of only one vote.

Rep. Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., chairman of the House Agriculture Committee and floor chairman of the bill, indicated it was unlikely the House would act on the Senate bill.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman had invested an enormous amount of time and effort to persuade his fellow Democrats to vote for the bill, and spent most of the three-day debate in an office just across a hall from the House chamber. Republicans derided his efforts as pressure tactics and arm-twisting.

Just after Thursday night's vote Freeman emerged from the office looking stunned and unbelieving. "I expected it to go the other way," he said. "I'm still trying to find out what happened."

Most of the Texas, Mississippi and Virginia delegations voted with the Republicans, in spite of an arm-long list of amendments accepted by the leadership in an effort to sweeten the bill for their areas.

But some Northern and Western Democrats classed as party faithful or liberals joined too. They included Neal Smith of Iowa, John Roush of Indiana, Joseph Montoya and Thomas Morris of New Mexico, Leo O'Brien of New York, John E. Fogarty of Rhode Island and others.

If only six of these had voted the other way, the bill would have carried.

Air France Plane Down In Guadeloupe

Wreckage Cited on Hillside; Number of Americans Unknown

By The Associated Press
A Boeing 707 Air France liner with 108 or more persons aboard crashed today on a forested hillside of the Caribbean island of Guadeloupe.

Circling search planes reported no sign of life in the wreckage. Debris was reported to have burned.

The $5.5-million plane met disaster as it headed in for a landing before dawn at the airport of Pointe-a-Pitre on a regular flight from Paris to Santiago, Chile.

The U.S. Coast Guard said the air traffic control center at Pointe-a-Pitre Airport reported the big jet had been cleared for its final approach when its radio went dead.

A small local plane later spotted the wreckage 2½ miles inland from the north coast of the Basse Terre section of Guadeloupe, the Coast Guard said.

Weather was reported clear at the time, and the pilot had radioed he was making a visual approach to the field.

The Coast Guard in New York said its information was that the plane was carrying 102 passengers and 11 crewmen. The Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington said it was told there were 103 passengers and 5 crewmen aboard.

However, a list announced by Air France in New York showed 10 crewmen, counting the hostesses and stewards.

The crash occurred at about 4:25 a.m. local time (3:25 a.m. EST), the hour the plane was due to land at Guadeloupe on a flight from Santa Maria, the Azores.

First word that the Air France liner was in trouble came at 6:19 a.m. (EST) when the Coast Guard received this message: "Distress, Air France Flight 117, B707, overdue. . ."

An all-ships distress signal was flashed to naval vessels, asking them to proceed to the area. Two Coast Guard amphibious planes and a patrol boat were dispatched from San Juan, Puerto Rico.

At 7 a.m. came word that wreckage had been spotted. The naval assistance call was canceled, but Coast Guard planes continued to sweep the area to be sure there was no wreckage at sea.

Guadeloupe is composed of two islands, Basse Terre and Grande Terre. The airfield is on Basse Terre.

The plane had a crew of 10 and 102 passengers aboard on takeoff from Paris Thursday night. It made a stop at Lisbon and several passengers left and others boarded.

Air France said the plane was captained by veteran pilot Andre Lesieur.

The plane put down for a brief refueling stop at Santa Maria in the Azores and was due in Guadeloupe at 3:25 a.m. It was to have flown on to Caracas, Venezuela; Bogota, Colombia, and Lima, Peru, terminating its flight at Santiago, Chile.

Capt. Lesieur, one of Air France's most experienced pilots, several times had flown President Charles de Gaulle.

The nationalities of the passengers aboard the Caribbean plane were not immediately known, but presumably few were Americans.

Guadeloupe is an overseas department of France in the Leeward Islands, 300 miles southeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico, and 80 miles north of Martinique. The area, which produces chiefly sugar cane and bananas, totals 687

Estes Charged For Mail Fraud

Business Firm, 3
Men Also Indicted

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Fresh criminal charges piled up Thursday against Billie Sol Estes, the West Texas promoter whose chemical fertilizer, grain storage and cotton growing operations involved millions of dollars.

A federal grand jury indicted Estes, 37, on charges of mail fraud and conspiracy from one state to another.

There are 29 counts in the indictment, which also named three other men and a business firm. The same grand jury accused them earlier of fraud through mortgages on fertilizer tanks, charging some of the tanks never existed.

Estes' varied enterprises are in the hands of a court-appointed receiver. He testified last week that his debts exceeds assets by about $17.5 million.

Creditors are studying a plan to reorganize and operate the businesses in hope of getting all their money back. Otherwise they have been advised the federal court will order bankruptcy proceedings.

Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said in Austin, at about the same time the indictment was returned here, that he will dig deeper into Estes' affairs in a court of inquiry at Pecos, the promoter's home town.

Republican Club To Elect Officers

Election of officers will be held at an organizational meeting of the Salem Men's Republican Club at 8 p.m. Monday, in Pavilion No. 1, Centennial Park.

Chairman Ernest Whitacre will conduct the business session which will be followed by an address by Dr. John Carrigg, 18th District candidate for Congress, at 9 p.m.

Members may renew memberships at the meeting. More than 300 members are enrolled in the club to date.

Columbiana County Republican candidates will be introduced during the meeting.

Car Strikes Farm Tractor; Operator Hurt

A 33-year-old farmer and an RD 5, Lisbon motorist were injured Thursday night at 10 when a Shaker Heights man crashed into the rear end of a farm tractor four miles east of Lisbon on Route 517.

Dale W. Bowman was driving his farm vehicle east when a car driven by Edward R. Snead of the Cleveland suburb struck the tractor from behind. Bowman was thrown from the tractor, fracturing his arm and cutting his face and arms.

His condition is fairly good at Salem City Hospital. Snead's lip was cut and a tooth was knocked out.

The State Patrol said the tractor's light were on as Bowman drove it from the farm of his brother-in-law, Thomas Faulk of RD 5, Lisbon. The tractor was demolished by the impact.

Snead was cited for failing to stop within the assured clear distance.

Fifteen minutes before the tractor-car collision the Lisbon Patrol investigating a one-car accident involving an East Liverpool motorist a half-mile north of East Liverpool on Route 267.

Wilbur Seaman, 50, was traveling south when his car left the right side of the road and struck a parked car owned by Henry J.

Summitville Council Delays Vote on Gas Rate Increase

SUMMITVILLE — Village Council Thursday night tabled action on a request by the Ohio Fuel and Gas Co. for a 3 1/2 per cent gas rate increase.

Councilmen decided to delay a vote on the proposal pending investigation of the possible outcome if the company took its request before the Ohio Public Utilities Commission.

Prior to Council's decision on the matter, Courtney Pennell of Lisbon, district manager for the gas firm, made another appeal for the village's approval of the increase.

Pennell had presented the original request to Council two months ago. The lawmakers then rejected the proposal.

In other action, Mrs. Evelyn Rogers, village treasurer, reported the village had a balance of $2,392 in its fund prior to Council's approval last night of payment of bills amounting to $1,932.

Council ordered the removal of shrubs at the edge of the park on Depot St. because of complaints they were obstructing the vision of motorists.

The lawmakers also approved an ordinance estimating the expenditure of $7,200 for village operations in 1963. The action was a prerequisite to drafting of a budget for next year.

Mayor Ernest Phillips reported county highway employees have begun resurfacing village streets.

Council approved the drafting of an ordinance to vacate North St. between 3rd and Main Sts., which has not been used as a thoroughfare, and approved a motion prohibiting motor scooters on the village tennis and basketball courts.

The jury was sworn in Wednesday morning by Judge Joel H. Sharp.

Insurance Company Favored In Suit

LISBON — A verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $7,310 was returned by a Common Pleas Court jury Thursday in the civil suit of the Lumberman's Mutual Insurance Co., Mansfield, against Mrs. Nelle A. Holzbach of 1081 Jennings Ave., Salem.

The insurance company claimed that Mrs. Holzbach was liable for damages caused to the property of Maude and Mary Mercer, New Garden Ave., Salem, when her car crashed into the house Aug. 12, 1960. Mrs. Holzbach alleged her steering apparatus and brakes failed and that she was not negligent. The insurance company had asked $7,880.

The jury was sworn in Wednesday morning by Judge Joel H. Sharp.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: I buy moth crystals by the gallon jug. I fill my unmated socks with these crystals . . . to about the heel of each sock. Then I tie the top of the sock in a knot and store the socks in a sealed jar.

These homemade bags of moth crystals are wonderful in many places. About once a week I put one of the bags in the living room, dining room and bedroom. I alternate these locations . . . one time I tuck one way down behind the sofa cushions, then on the floor under a low-built chair, or in a corner behind the drapes. Occasionally I even put one inside the piano.

This is a good preventive against mildew and moths and we also like the faint pleasant odor it seems to give a room.

If there are very young children in the home, I would suggest sewing the stockings on the machine so the children cannot get hold of them—they are poisonous if eaten.

KATHLEEN B.

And did you know that some people put cologne on the top of the sock where the knot is tied?

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: Now that we have found a way to remove mildew from shower curtains, I would like to share my method of removing the wrinkles which they sometimes get after a spin dry.

After hanging the curtain on the ironing board and use a piece of old sheet as a pressing cloth over the curtain itself. I press it with a warm steam iron. My wrinkles disappear as if by magic. The curtains are also pliable again. One must use a steam iron for this.

HELEN

DEAR HELOISE: People often wonder what to give friends who are sick or hospitalized. I always take post cards, stamps and stationery. People are pleased with them—they're different and useful.

VIRGINIA ARMSTRONG
DEAR HELOISE: When I must take a cake or pie somewhere and don't want to take my cake cover, I put toothpicks in the icing or meringue and put waxed paper over it. The toothpicks keep the waxed paper from touching and they look much better than the meringue or icing messed up.

M. W.

DEAR HELOISE: My children are hankie users. The hankies always were lost before I discovered that they could have a button hole worked in each corner. The hankie can then be buttoned to a button on the dress.

I have found that I can sew a button on the pocket of any of my daughter's dresses, either inside or out, and the hankie is darling when buttoned to the dress.

I now buy colored hankies. Makes for variety and gives spiff to ordinary cottons.

MOOMY

DEAR HELOISE: When making buttonholes in a garment and you have fine or thin material but still need some sort of backing . . . just use gauze bandage rolls. They're thin and also keep the little facing straight.

Restaurant Burglary Probed by Deputies

LISBON — A total of $25.50 in coins and an undetermined amount of money and cigarettes from a cigarette machine were taken in a burglary of Hoge's Restaurant on Route 30, northwest of East Liverpool, early Thursday morning, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan.

Deputy Robert Beresford who made the investigation said the lock had been broken off the car service door at the side of the restaurant. The coins were taken from two cash registers.

Robert Crawford, an employee who arrived at work at 9:45 a.m. Thursday, reported the theft to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hoge, the owners, who called the sheriff's office.

A History of Salem:

The Effect of the Fugitive Slave Law

By CARL F. PRUTTON, JR.
CHAPTER III
(The Fugitive Slave Law)

The Salem Town Hall was built in 1847 with a large room on the second floor for public meetings.

Prior to the Civil War, the most famous speakers in the American Anti-Slavery Movement spoke at the Town Hall. William Lloyd Garrison, Wendell Phillips, Sojourner Truth, Abby Kelly Foster, and Frederick Douglass, by their speeches in the hall, helped make Salem's Town Hall one of the most famous speaking places in the American West.

On April 9, 1849, seven slaves arrived in Salem via the "Underground Railroad" from Wheeling and were hidden by Howell Hise. Hise wrote, in his diary, that night: "Welcome! welcome to the protection I can give, with or without the law." One week later, Hise noted that, "it is rumored our town is infested with Virginia tyrants (slave catchers); but hope it is a false alarm."

Men who were hired by plantation owners to come north and catch escaped slaves were viewed with great distaste by the vast majority of Salemites. In February, 1850, some 'man hunters' came to Salem seeking runaways, but failed in their mission.

HISE WROTE, "they got sight of those they claimed as property, but of course that was all."

In April, 1850, Salem was the scene for the second Woman's Rights Convention to be held in the United States. The first such convention had been held in 1848 in Seneca Falls, New York.

The convention was held at local Town Hall and although men were allowed to come to the meetings they were not allowed to address the convention. Mariana Johnson's speech depicted the Common Law in relation to women as, "unjust and degrading."

In September, 1850, Congress passed the Compromise of 1850 which had the controversial Fugitive Slave Law in it. According to the new fugitive law a person could be fined up to $1,000 for aiding a slave who had escaped from his master and federal marshals were to aid in the enforcement of the law.

IN SALEM, the more ardent abolitionists felt that the new law was proof that the U.S. Constitution was an instrument for the furtherance of slavery. On Sept. 17, 1850, the Western Anti-Slavery Society met in Salem and resolved that the Fugitive Slave Law was, "but a stronger demonstration of the unjust, inhuman, God-defying character of the American Constitution and Union."

The new law had its effect in Salem, for by Oct. 5th, all of the fugitives who had been living in Salem had gone to Canada. The Anti-Slavery Bugle's attitude was summed up in an article printed Oct. 5, 1850 in which it was asserted that, "language would fail to express the contempt with which we regard the miserable tools, sycophants and traitors whose votes have brought about this result." An indignation meeting was scheduled for Nov. 8, with Joshua R. Giddings as principal speaker. Giddings was unable to attend because of the sickness of his son. However, Judge Wade took his place and the meeting was held in a spirit of great distaste for the new slave law.

The Homestead Journal reported, on Nov. 2th, that, "if there is any benighted corner in the Northwest, where any considerable number of apologists for the Fugitive Slave Law can be found, it is not in this vicinity."

The new slave law was supposed to halt or severely check the operations of the "Underground Railroad," but in Salem it inflamed the abolitionists to double their efforts.

Salem heard the whistle of a locomotive for the first time on November 4, 1851 and on Nov. 27th as many Salemites as could fit into the train rode it to Alliance for their first taste of railroad travel.

THE OUTSTANDING EVENT in Salem's role in the 'Underground Railroad' occurred on Aug. 28, 1854. On that day, an anti-slavery meeting was being held at the Hicksite Friends Church and at about 4 p.m. it was announced that a train from Pittsburgh carried a slave on board. The meeting was adjourned so that all could go to the train depot and await the train. The train pulled into Salem at about 6 p.m. and by that time there were hundreds of Salem citizens waiting at the depot.

As soon as the cars stopped, Benjamin Boun, Abram, Brooke, Dr. Thomas, and a Mr. Blackwell from Cincinnati boarded the train and finding a young colored girl asked a nearby white man if the girl belonged to him. The man, a Mr. Robinson, said that the girl was the property of his wife. The liberators hearing this seized the girl and carried her off the train amid the curses of Mr. Robinson and the screams of his wife. Before the train left, Robinson gave the girl's clothing to the liberators.

A meeting was called to discuss the rescue and as the crowd moved up Depot St. to the Town Hall the church bells began to sound.

THE CHILD WAS NAMED Abby Kelly Salem to honor a famed abolitionist (Abby Kelly) and the town which had rescued the girl from slavery. The girl was given to Joel Macmillan and his wife to rear.

At times, Mrs. Macmillan had to discipline her young charge who claimed that she had never been spanked while in the South; however, Miss Salem gave herself away one day when she asked Mrs. Macmillan if she had ever lived in the South. Mrs. Macmillan said that she had never lived in the South and asked why Abby had asked. Abby replied, "O kase you all heah whups 'zactly like ma old missus down Souf done whupped me."

Statehouse Squirrels To Get New Homes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The gray squirrels which have long inhabited the grounds and trees on Ohio's Statehouse lawn are going to be moved to new homes next Monday.

Theodore Kauer, director of the department of public works, said the squirrels will be distributed among four Franklin County parks under control of the Columbus Metropolitan Park Board.

Construction of the underground garage beneath the Statehouse grounds is expected to begin next March and that work will require getting rid of the trees, Kauer said.

Construction of the Lincoln Memorial began in 1915.

Services at the local EUB Church will begin at 9:45 and 10:45 during the months of July and August.

Playgrounds to Open Monday For Summer

Six playgrounds, supervised by trained directors and leaders, will open Monday at 9 a.m. C. F. Tomlinson, park and recreation superintendent, said today.

The playgrounds, located at Buckeye, Fourth Street, McKinley, Prospect and Reilly schools and Centennial Park, will be open for eight weeks, closing Friday, Aug. 17. Daily hours will be 9 to 11:30 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m.

Children are required to know the name of their family doctor, their address and phone number for registration purposes. Children must be five years or older.

Playground directors are John Smith, Karen Trombitas, Susan Mathews, Joyce Halverstadt, Jim McConnor and Eileen Hall. Leaders include Polly Hilliard, Mary Longworth, Robert Eskay, Polly Schmid, Susan Darner and George Johnston. Mickey Cope is playground supervisor.

Children registered at the playgrounds will be divided into two groups and given a free swimming period from noon to 1 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday of each week.

Special events will include swimming races at Centennial Pool, Wednesday, July 4, at 9 a.m.; game day at Pavilion 2 at the park, Wednesday, July 11, at 1 p.m.; a track meet at Reilly Stadium, Saturday, July 21, at 1 p.m.; a pet fair at the park, Wednesday, July 25, at 1 p.m.; and a city-wide Penny Carnival and Craft Show at Reilly Stadium, Wednesday, Aug. 8, in the afternoon and evening.

Playground children also will be encouraged to join the summer reading club sponsored by the Salem Public Library. The library playground schedule will be 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. at Prospect School every other Monday beginning June 25 and 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. at Buckeye School every other Tuesday starting June 26.

Another Year, Another Miracle

What a difference a year makes. Just 12 months ago most Americans were worried about war prospects and the Communist menace. It was the time of Premier Khrushchev's heated remarks over Berlin as he warmed up the cold war.

At that time the Soviet leader enjoyed the enviable position of issuing threatening statements and seeing them splashed across the front pages of every newspaper in the world. And at the time most of the world shuddered when he rumbled.

He was the big threat as he announced in June 1961 that a peace treaty would be signed with Germany by the end of the year and the headline blared "Stepup in Cold War."

BUT NOW the concern is not with Khrushchev but with the nation's economy and the slumping stock market.

What has happened to the Communist menace?

According to a survey conducted by U.S. News & World Report of several average American cities, Khrushchev has been described as a windbag, a big bluff and a blowhard.

Those queried said that the Russian leader has attempted so many scares that this tactic fails to carry any weight now. Many seem to think the Communist threat has run its course, that it has reached its high peak and now must fight for survival within its own ranks.

Even Khrushchev has changed his story in the last 12 months. This week in a speech to Romanian workers he said, "We do not give any deadline on settling the Berlin issue."

He did add, "I am convinced that tomorrow the Red flag will fly over the United States. But we will not fly the flag. It will be the American people themselves."

It must be admitted that his form of government could solve one of America's most perplexing problems—that of surplus food. His Red bloc nations can boast of never being plagued with an overabundance in the agriculture department.

SO THIS nation puts to rest, at least to some extent, the cold war fears only to be troubled about the nation's economic picture.

Businessmen complain about the anti-business attitude of the Kennedy administration and President Kennedy complains that business must cooperate more with the government to increase our national output. And right in the middle of this hassle is the workman whose purchasing power is really the key to the whole economic structure.

Once the economic problem is ironed out and profits are no longer squeezed and the government doesn't take such a big bite out of the hand that feeds it, there is bound to be another menace or bogeyman to harass the public.

It would seem that only cows are supposed to be contented.

Fast Action On Apportionment

When the U.S. Supreme Court ruled last March that federal courts have a right and duty to act as arbiters in disputes over apportionment of seats in state legislatures, the decision was widely recognized as perhaps the high court's most far-reaching judgment since the 1954 ruling against school segregation.

What few observers expected was the speed with which the ruling would be put to use across the land. There were, indeed, an abundance of predictions that it would be a long time before any tangible results of the decision would appear.

But already, less than three months after its original decision in a Tennessee case, the Supreme Court has agreed to review a followup suit involving the notorious county-unit voting system that has plagued Georgia's city citizens for years. The Georgia suit was filed the same day the Supreme Court handed down its Tennessee decision.

And that is only one case. Disgruntled urban voters in more than 30 states have taken action, either in the courts or through direct political pressure, to force their legislatures to change their apportionment systems.

No clear guidelines have been set yet, and numerous judicial decisions probably will be required to establish them. Specific situations and systems vary from state to state; the unfairness of city representation in some of them may be more imagined than real.

And there is no absolute rule in American democracy governing fair representation. The debate on the subject which threatened to sabotage the work of the Constitution's drafters in 1787 has continued to plague both professional and amateur political scientists ever since.

But there is no doubt now that changes will be made and quickly. Seldom has a decision by the highest court in the land reverberated to the grass roots of our political life so rapidly or so forcefully.

Park Vandalism

Vandalism in Salem's nice park system should not be tolerated, and it probably won't.

Teen-agers are believed responsible for damage reported at Centennial Park and for a forced entry and theft at Watterworth Memorial Park.

The general Salem public appreciates its park facilities but youngsters and older youths who receive a more direct benefit from the parks should be ashamed of their recent behavior. The next time an errant youth is caught by a plainclothes officer, he's apt to find himself facing the juvenile court judge, and a parental paddle later.

Dangerous And Illegal

There's hardly a person 25 years of age or older who doesn't recall with some degree of memorable excitement the sacks of assorted fireworks he or she bought before state law banned their sale—for obvious reason. They're dangerous!

There's no pleasant memory in the tragic firecracker accidents that blinded some children and injured many others.

Fingers can still be blown off and eyes blinded by bootleg firecrackers, cherry bombs and homemade pyrotechnics. Contraband fireworks can be found in almost every community as July Fourth approaches, despite the fact that 29 states have adopted restrictive laws. In 1954 a federal law prohibited shipment of fireworks into any state that has a ban against them.

Police Chief Martin Lutsch's timely warning yesterday against sale or possession of fireworks ought to deter any pre-Fourth celebrants, but it probably won't because arrests are seldom made.

Tourist Tips

By Barnett O. Laschever

The protagonists have locked horns. The controversy rages. Foreigners can travel cheaply in our country, according to the new United States Travel Service.

Not so, retort assorted foreign and American journalists, the United States is too expensive for the average visitor.

Well, what is an average visitor, and what is cheap?

In its new advertising program in European newspapers, USTS attempts to lure visitors to our shores with the promise of tours that average $100 a week.

PROVE IT, said the foreign journalists, at a recent press conference with Voit Gilmore, dynamic director of the fledgling agency. "We travel throughout the States, and costs are much higher than that," they said.

Last week USTS answered back at a seminar in New York sponsored by the local chapter of the Hotel Sales Management Association and Sterling Information Service, producers of the Teleguide TV Service to New York hotels.

Mr. Gilmore was not present, but his deputy, John W. Black, was on hand to rebut criticism of the travel service's advertisements and initial efforts.

Mr. Black described a three-week, coast-to-coast tour of the United States that costs $20.55 per person. The price was broken down this way: a $99 bus ticket (good for unlimited travel in the United States, for 90 days and available to foreign visitors only), $10.55 for a train ride through the Rocky Mountains in a glass dome car, $40 for a week's room and board at a Colorado ranch, and $141 for other hotel rooms and food.

Add it up — and it looks good, but USTS admitted that the costs it lists are the lowest possible, and that they don't include gifts, souvenirs, clothing replacement, liquor, postage and other miscellaneous items. This raises the questions: Should all the same advertising techniques used to sell lawn mowers be applied to travel? A customer lured into a store by the engaging pictures of a $30 power mower, can choose a higher-priced model if he wants more automatic controls, better construction, or a wider cut. Or he can leave the store without making any purchase at all.

The traveler is in a different position. Once lured 3,000 miles across the ocean to the United States, there's no turning back without spending money. And with the extras not mentioned in the ads the return trip can come up before the tourists from abroad realizes he's landed.

Last spring we escorted a Norwegian couple about New York and discovered they were subsisting on hamburgers and hot dogs. "We just love the drugstores," they said, "it's the real America, we're meeting the real people."

WE CAUGHT them shortly after arrival. Whether their love affair with the hot dog and hamburger continued at a white heat throughout their trip, we can't say, but — well, just how long do you think you could stomach a steady, unvarying diet of fish and chips, or spaghetti and meatballs, or open-faced sandwiches?

The USTS is a fledgling among official government tourist agencies. Yet in its first year, with a limited budget, it has done a fine job, in the opinion of many qualified observers.

The service understands that the habits of people can't be changed overnight and the Americans can't suddenly be taught a handful of foreign languages. But it believes that the average American has a deep source of friendliness and hospitality that appeals to most visitors from abroad.

Exploiting this quality, USTS has persuaded communities across the nation to set up hospitality centers, which at a moment's notice can call linguists in their areas to act as hosts for foreign visitors.

Mr. Black, at the seminar last week, said: "I'm a little appalled at the lack of appreciation shown in this country for the work of the travel service."

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Bob Kennedy heard a cheering crowd the other day nominate him to run for President of the United States in 1968.

It was the first such public demonstration. The shouting swelled as the words were spoken by the leader of those gathered. It was a labor convention, so the nomination is still unofficial.

But it was the convention of the militantly liberal Hatters' Union, maker of policy in the highest echelon of labor. The nomination came from Alex Rose, in good humor, but in deadly political earnest.

After Bob Kennedy left the hall, Rose, who I'm certain will take no insult if I describe him as a latter-day Jim Farley (neither will Jim), told this columnist — "Certainly I meant it. If this nation wants to continue the kind of administration in '68 we now have under John Kennedy, the country will have to turn to his brother who is so closely identified with everything the President stands for."

FROM THE MOMENT the attorney general strode into the Statter - Hilton convention hall here, it was obvious "Bob" felt at home, and it was just as plain that he was amongst political partners and friends.

Since early '59, Alex Rose and his people had run interference for John Kennedy, bringing him closer to the New York labor leaders, introducing him to New York liberalism, breaking down the frustrated political love for Adlai Stevenson.

Dear Ann Landers: My mother-in-law went to Europe for a month's vacation. She left Lady Astor, her toy poodle, with us. This is what I'm writing about.

That mutt is ruining our marriage. When we go out for the evening we have to hire someone to sit with her because she's not accustomed to staying alone. My wife is afraid the dog will have a heart attack if she cried too much.

Last night Lady Astor didn't eat her supper and my wife became worried. She held the dog in her arms for about an hour. When she put her down the crying started.

Finally my wife took her in bed with us. When the dog came into the bed I left. I am now bunking on an Army cot in the back hall.

My wife claims that Lady Astor is as clean as any human and that I am unreasonable. She said she'd accept my verdict if I'd let her see this letter before I mailed it. She just checked the facts and said, "Okay."

What do you say? — DOG'S LIFE.

Dear Life: I say your wife and Lady Astor should take the

Just Call Me 'Shorty'!

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Now it is Robert's turn. Nor is he displeased at all.

Quickly he endeared himself to the delegates. And with a gay story. He said he had just flown in from Washington. On the plane a Massachusetts businessman, the attorney general said, had approached him.

"I don't trust your brother," said the businessman to the attorney general.

"My brother, the President?" queried Bob.

"No, your brother Ted," was the reply. "And furthermore, you're all taking too much advice from Arthur."

"Arthur Schlesinger?" asked Bob.

"No, Arthur Goldberg," was the reply. "And you should take more advice from Rose." "Alex Rose?" inquired Bob. "No, your mother, Rose," snapped the businessman.

THEN CAME the attorney general's serious remarks on international affairs.

Who is Alex Rose? He is more than the leader of the Hatters, more than the leader of the New York State Liberal party. To insiders he is a labor leaders' labor leader, the politicians' politico, and so much an inner strategist in the labor - Liberal-Democratic coalition that he has sweated through many a tactical crisis with President Kennedy's personal poll taker, Lou Harris.

It was Rose's skillful political footwork as well as the 400,000 margin of victory Liberal party votes in New York state which helped handsomely to win for John Kennedy.

It is the Liberal party, which Rose guides, that sets major policy in much of the Democratic party ranks, much of political labor in and out of the state.

THEREFORE, I take quite seriously what Rose chooses to put on the record! Here, then, is specifically what he said, first on the platform and later in private conversations with this reporter:

"Bob Kennedy may need a hat one day to throw into the ring."

Later Rose asserted, after urging the A. G. to wear a head covering. "After all, we had Franklin Roosevelt for 16 years, we may want 16 years of Kennedy."

In our private conversations, Rose said:

"Of course there's a Constitutional amendment against more than two terms. But eight years of John and then eight years of Bob — eight times two — that gives us 16 years of Kennedys."

I said something about this being a long way off.

"While this sounds," said Rose, "like a platform compliment to a guest speaker today, it sure can be a reality in the future."

In eight years this country will be addicted to the Kennedy name.

"Bob Kennedy will have such an energetic image and impact on the country that we feel he will make a fine president."

"Our convention has tremendous political repercussions. Our union represents the typical liberal labor unions. We may influence a whole body of votes in New York State first, and then nationally. Now we're on record."

Bob Kennedy, after hearing Rose's "nominating speech," grinned and said he'd better listen to the other Rose, his mother. But he did not say that the gracious lady believes she did not raise her other boy to be a president.

Army cot and you should be back in your own bed.

Truthful Rat

Dear Ann: You'll say I'm a dirty rat and you are right, but I'm willing to take the verbal lashing if you'll point a way out of this mess.

I'm 23 years old and trying to get through law school. For three years I've been going with a girl I'll call Debbie. She is 21, not very good looking, but she comes from a well-to-do family.

I was her first serious sweetheart and I hope you can read between the lines when I say serious. I hate to sound like a cad but everything that happened between us was as much her idea as mine.

She is putting real pressure on me to get married. Her parents are pushing for a wedding, too. In fact, they want to buy us a bungalow and furnish it. Her father has offered to help me financially so I can devote all my time to studying.

It's the kind of setup most fellows would grab, but I'm not sure I want to marry this girl. Do I owe her marriage? I hope you'll say no, but I'm betting you'll say yes. — WANT OUT.

Dear Out: Well don't bet your law library, Bub — because I'm saying no.

If all you can say about the girl's is "she's fair looking and comes from a well-to-do family," your blood pressure is much too low to consider marriage. It would be an injustice to the girl.

Recently I received a rash of angry letters because I said, "Most fellows will take all they can get, plus what they talk a girl into." It's guys like you who keep the average up.

Background on Steel

By DAVID LAWRENCE

JFK 'Assumed' Firms Would Hold Price Line

President Kennedy has always maintained that he acted in the "public interest" in the steel-price controversy. His brother, the attorney general, has just given some interesting background on what happened. He says that the administration based its action on an "assumption" or "understanding" that the steel industry would absorb the added wage cost of $100 million without increasing prices.

Did the steel companies, however, have any such "understanding" with the government when prices were advanced or even when they were held down? Was there concerted action between the White House and any steel company to fix the price of steel at present levels? Did the administration encourage any illegal act?

In an antitrust case in 1940, oil companies, which had been indicted for fixing the price of gasoline, argued that a governmental agency had encouraged, cooperated and acquiesced in their program but the Supreme Court of the United States ruled:

"Under the Sherman Act a combination formed for the purpose and with the effect of raising, depressing, fixing, pegging, or stabilizing the price of a commodity in interstate or foreign commerce is illegal per se. . . .

"Though employees of the government may have known of those programs and winked at them or tacitly approved them, no immunity would have thereby been obtained. . . .

"For as we have seen price-fixing combinations which lack congressional sanction are illegal per se."

THE ATTORNEY general last Sunday spoke on the American Broadcasting Company's program called "Issues and Answers" and indicated that he would have welcomed a concerted action to hold prices and that he believes there was, by implication, some kind of an "assumption" or "understanding" to that effect anyhow as between the steel companies and the President.

Mr. Kennedy was interrogated by William H. Lawrence of ABC. Here is a verbatim transcript of what the attorney general said:

"The President and the administration were committed to attempting to stop the inflation in the United States and in that effort of course steel plays a major role. With the concurrence of steel executives, management, the President and Mr. Goldberg, secretary of labor, had many meetings with representatives in the steel union to attempt to prevail upon them to not make their demands excessive."

"It was understood in the meetings with the steel executives, Mr. Blough and others, that this effort was to be made so that with the union's demands being reasonable that the price of steel would not have to be raised. It was with this understanding that the President and Arthur Goldberg went ahead and finally, I think, through their efforts prevailed upon the union to keep their demands in extremely reasonable level which was recognized by all throughout the United States and a contract was signed on very reasonable terms and recognized as such, and then a short time later the steel companies, led by U.S. Steel, raised their prices.

"Thereafter realizing what the effect would be on the economy generally, what the effect would be on all of the other industries, if this remained, the President did what he could to exert (assert) the public interest and the various branches of the departments, various branches and departments of the executive branch of the government were brought into play. I think he had a responsibility to defend and protect the public interest."

"Q. Did you say there was an understanding with Mr. Blough that steel prices would not be raised?"

"A. No."

"Q. I thought you did say that just a minute ago."

"A. The effort that was made with the union — the steel union — was made with the complete understanding of the steel executives that the government was bringing this pressure to keep the steel union and Mr. David MacDonald from raising their demands to too high a level. During that whole period it was — the effort was being made so that the steel companies in turn would not have to raise their prices."

"Q. Well, if there was not an understanding, Mr. Kennedy, there was at least an assumption on the part of the administration that there would be no steel price rise after this noninflationary wage agreement was signed?"

"A. That is correct."

"Q. And it was on this feeling of an assumption rather than an understanding that the President felt in effect that he had been double-crossed, right?"

"A. That is correct. The steel company executives, however, never said, never indicated, said or stated that they would not raise their prices, but it was an understanding as you described — that if we were successful in keeping the union demands at a low level and a contract was signed which was noninflationary it was the understanding that the price of steel would not be raised. Shortly afterward the price of steel was raised."

YET, IF THE SHOE were on the other foot and any "assumption" or "understanding" was reached among management executives in any industry whereby prices would be raised or maintained at a given level, the Department of Justice, on the basis of past performance, would be the first to assert that concerted action with or without government encouragement or consent is a violation of the antitrust laws. For that's what the Supreme Court has ruled is the "law of the land" today.

It's Planned That Way

The June 19 issue of the Salem News contained an editorial "Memorable Events" which praised the editors and faculty advisers of the Salem High Quaker Annuals for getting the annuals to the students in June. This is fine and as a graduate of Salem High I enjoyed my annuals and still enjoy looking through a Quaker Annual.

However, the last paragraph stated, and I quote, "Several other schools in Columbiana County do not receive their yearbooks until mid-summer which strikes us as something akin to getting a Christmas card on Valentine's Day."

We at United Schools receive our annuals in August because we choose to get them at that time. By so doing we are able to have pictures of the prom, graduation, track, and other spring activities which otherwise would go unrecorded in our "book of memories." We also are able to save a considerable sum of money by having this summer delivery, so don't be so critical.

Matter of Fact

The first flag flown in the British colonies in America was a square of white bunting adorned with the cross of St. George. This cross was red and extended the full length and breadth of the flag. It was carried by John Cabot when he landed on the North American continent in 1497.

The South Pole itself is on a plateau about 10,000 feet in height. It is known that the greater part of the continent is a continuous plateau, the average height of which is about 8,000 feet. This makes the Antarctic continent twice as high as the continent of Asia.

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

FDA Checks Strontium In Food

Most of what we hear and read about fallout might be included in Shakespeare's "tale told by an idiot, full of sound and fury, signifying nothing."

Hence, it is doubly refreshing to come across a common sense approach to the problem such as the measurements of the strontium-90 content of "market basket" samplings, as conducted by our Food and Drug Administration.

Briefly stated, the FDA purchases "market baskets" of foods from four large chain stores in the Washington, D.C., area. The foods chosen are those that might be bought by a mother in a moderate income bracket for her 19-year-old son.

pared for eating, it is analyzed for its content of strontium-90. Then the waste (bones, fat, coffee grounds, fruit and vegetable skins and fibers) is tested. And, by subtracting the content in waste from the content of the "market basket," the weekly amount of strontium-90 that would have been taken in by the 19-year-old, if he'd eaten his fill, is calculated. You will be relieved to learn, I am sure, that the average intake of strontium-90 from the edible portions of the "market basket" diet samples are no more than 6 per cent of the intake Federal Radiation Council. Recent atomic testing may alter this figure, however.

EIGHTY FRIENDS and relatives attended the silver wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Clem Ehrhart of W. 4th St. Sunday in the C.I.O. hall on Prospect St. The event was arranged by their daughter, Patricia.

A white and silver theme was dominate in the floral centerpiece and three-tier cake. Topping the cake was the tiny bride and bridegroom figurine from the couple's wedding cake, and the table cloth covering the refreshment table belonged to Mrs. Ehrhart's grandmother. Serving the guests were Mrs. Dale Leach, Mrs. George Ehrhart and Mrs. James Minamy.

The couple received many gifts and cards among which was a note of congratulation from Rev. Herbert J. Thompson, officiating minister at their wedding.

Mr. Ehrhart and Clara Mae Bowman were married June 19, 1937, by the Rev. Mr. Thompson in his home on S. Lincoln Ave. and have lived here since. Mr. Ehrhart is employed by Bellows-Valvair.

MISS JUNE GEARY, bride-elect of Cpl. Roger Henthorne, was honored by 18 friends and classmates at a bridal shower Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Lester Wilson of Tower Road.

Gifts were placed in a decorated pink laundry basket.

Game prizes were won by Sandra Ewing, Charlene Lyons, Mrs. Lowell Ewing and Mrs. James Menning.

Miss Faye Geary and Mrs. Menning assisted the hostess with serving refreshments.

Miss Geary and Cpl. Henthorne will be married June 30 in the Winona Friends Church.

MEMBERS OF THE Salem Garden Club will meet Monday at 12:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. George Emery of Highland Ave., for a picnic luncheon, for which rolls and coffee will be furnished.

Mrs. John Botu will speak on "Collecting and Preserving Materials for Dried Arrangements." The exhibits for the day will be "Patio Table Arrangements" and horticulture.

MR. AND MRS. J. Gay Conley of 4300 Erie Ave., S.W. Navarre, former Salem residents, will be honored at an open reception July 1 from 2 to 6 p.m. in the social rooms of the Franklin Square Methodist Church, the occasion being their 25th wedding anniversary. Children of the couple are planning the event.

James Gay Conley and Edith Virginia Parrish were married June 30, 1937 at Wellsburg, W. Va. Mr. Conley is in the trucking business.

They are the parents of five children. Mrs. Leon Taylor of Columbiana, Carol Lee of Washington, D.C., Sharon Kay, Gayle Suzanne and Phillip Claire, of the home. There are three grandchildren.

RESERVATIONS for the reunion of Salem High School Class of 1952 may be made with Mrs. Jerry Smith of 1966 Fairview Court until July 14. The reunion will be an event of July 2 at Arrowhead Lake in Columbiana.

REV. JANE HUFF, teacher in the Montezuma Indian School, Cottonwood, Ariz., was guest speaker at a meeting of the First Friends Church Ruth Circle Tuesday evening at the church. Accompanying Rev. Huff were two 15-year-old Indian girls, Dolie Helt and Maybell Watson, students at the school. They were introduced by Mrs. Herman C. Stratton, president. Capt. Jean Manholan of the Salvation Army gave the opening prayer.

Rev. Huff and the girls offered several numbers in music and art. Pictures were shown of the activities of the school. Miss Gladys Hicks of Alliance who taught at the school one year, assisted in showing the pictures.

Miss Pearl Walker gave a devotional talk on "Sharing." Prayers were offered by Rev. William Waltz, pastor of the Quaker Hill Church, Sebring, and Rev. Charles E. Haworth. Guests were from Lisbon and Alliance.

After the meeting Rev. Huff and the girls were honored at an informal reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Stratton at their home, Buckeye Ave. Rev. Huff was presented a gift of money. Refreshments were served.

MRS. DALE ILER was elected Dunn, reporter, when members of the Petite Nine Club met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Iler in Mineral Ridge.

Prizes at cards were won by Mrs. Raymond Crosser, Mrs. Earl Whinnery and Mrs. Richard Odum.

Mrs. William Schwartz of Stewart Ave. will entertain the club July 1.

FIFTY RELATIVES and friends of the Hoopes and Yates families met Sunday at Centennial Park for their 78th annual reunion.

Warren Brown of Salem presided at the business session when the following officers were elected for 1963:

President, Richard Dunn, RD Hanoverton; vice president, Clyde Alaback, Canton, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Donald H. Mayhew, RD 2, Salem, corresponding secretary, Mrs. William D. Dunn, Benton Road.

The oldest member present was Mrs. Catherine Yates of Pittsburgh, aged 88. Others in the fourscore age group were Miss Erma Hoopes of Salem; Mrs. Orrden Hoopes of Canton and Mrs. Nerr Randels also of Canton.

Others came from Cleveland, Mantua and the surrounding area. The youngest present was Glenn Richard, 10-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dunn of RD Hanoverton.

Mrs. Pearl Crum of Girard and Nerr Randels of Canton were also in attendance at the first reunion.

Donald Yates of Pittsburgh showed a nature film. The group made plans to meet in June of 1963 at Centennial Park, Salem.

Mrs. David Lynn Daley

Scullion-Daley Nuptials Held In St. Paul Church

Miss Ruthanne Scullion, daughter of Cecil Scullion of 712 W. State St., and the late Mrs. Ruth DeCrow, was united in marriage to David Lynn Daley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Daley of Depot Road, June 9 in St. Paul's Catholic Church.

Rev. Richard Gaffney officiated at the exchange of vows at the double ring ceremony at 12:30 p.m. before an altar banked with palms and ferns.

Escorted down the aisle and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white organdy and lace with scalloped Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves. The skirt fell in wide tiers of scalloped lace with an overskirt of organdy falling to a brush train. Her elbow length veil of illusion was caught to a cap of mother-of-pearl and she carried a cascade arrangement of white orchids and ivy.

Mrs. Gerald Yunk was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Carol Grimm and Miss Patricia Lisi. All wore full skirted dresses of taffeta with capped sleeves, the matron of honor in turquoise and bridesmaids in yellow. Their cascade bouquets were of turquoise rose buds.

Earl Daley served his brother as best man and George Knavel of Brigham, City, Utah, and Gary Whiteleather ushered.

Over 100 guests were registered by Mrs. Brent Thomas at the reception in St. Paul's auditorium.

The three-tiered heart-shaped wedding cake rested on a base of three smaller heart shaped cakes and was decorated in silver, turquoise and yellow, topped with a miniature bride couple with ribbon streamers inscribed with names of the bride and bridegroom. Mrs. Vincent Taus, Mrs. George Greenwald and Miss Beverly Knavel served.

The bride is a graduate of Salem Senior High School and Hannah E. Mullins School of Practical Nursing and is employed at City Hospital.

A graduate of Salem Senior High School, Mr. Daley is employed by Bellows-Valvair.

For her honeymoon to Niagara Falls, the bride wore a dress of white cotton with red accessories.

The couple are residing at 637½ Woodland Ave.

Refreshments were served from a table laid with a white cloth leaves and napkins to match, centered with an arrangement of roses and garden flowers and flanked with pink tapers in crystal holders. Guests attended from East Palestine and Lisbon.

Members of the refreshment committee were Mrs. Galen Greenisen, chairman, Mrs. Grace Allmon, Mrs. Henry Reese, Mrs. Myrtle Wildman, Mrs. Elbert Vincent, Mrs. Wade Loop, Mrs. Thomas Coe and Miss Eleanor McMurray.

Parties Fete Miss Null, Bride-Elect

Miss Margaret Null, who will become the bride of Robert E. McArtor on June 30, is being feted at a round of pre-nuptial parties.

Mrs. Scott McCorkhill entertained at a tea recently in her home on S. Lincoln Ave. A centerpiece of pink roses and delphinium graced the lace covered tea table and the honoree was presented a recipe box for which each guest contributed her favorite recipe.

Appointments of blue and pink were used when Mrs. F. Troy Cope Jr. of South Lincoln Ave. was hostess at a luncheon recently honoring Miss Null.

Guests were seated at round tables laid with blue cloths and centered with bowls of sweetheart roses. A pink rose bud and tiny bridesmaid figurines were place favors with a miniature bride a place of honor. Miss Null was presented a shower of linens.

Monday Mrs. Harry Krohne gave a luncheon and personal shower at her home at Sevakken Lake. The buffet table was laid with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of red roses and Japanese iris.

Two of Miss Null's former classmates at Laurel School at Cleveland, Miss Margot Stanton of Elyria and Miss Susie Walter, were hostesses at a luncheon at the Walter home in Shaker Heights.

Soft shades of pink were used in a floral centerpiece on a buffet table laid with cut-work linen. Following the luncheon Miss Null was presented a miscellaneous shower. The guest list included former classmates from Laurel and the mothers of the hostesses. Miss Walter and Miss Stanton will be bridesmaids at the wedding.

Continuing the parties planned for Miss Null is a cocktail party and Kitchen shower Friday by Mrs. Thomas A. Moore of Park Drive, a brunch Monday to be given by Mrs. W. Eugene Young in her home on Highland Ave., and the traditional troussseau tea by the prospective bride's mother, Mrs. Walter B. Null at her home on N. Union Ave., Tuesday.

Mrs. Robert S. McCulloch Jr., aunt of the bride-to-be, will be hostess at the spinster dinner in her home on Highland Ave. and Mr. McArtor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell B. McArtor, will be hosts at a buffet supper in the McArtor home of E. 5th St. following the rehearsal the evening of June 29.

On the day of the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. McCulloch Sr., grandparents of Miss Null, will entertain the wedding party and out-of-town guests at a buffet luncheon at the Golf Club.

The peanut is a native of tropical America and was cultivated by pre-Columbian Indians. Incas ground the rich, oily seeds into a form of butter.

Engagement Revealed

The Wesleyan Methodist Church of Middlefield, O., was the scene of the wedding June 9 of Miss Jane Ellen McHugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McHugh, to Lawrence William Burcaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burcaw of MC 1, Salem.

Rev. Claude Eshelman heard the exchange of vows at 2 p.m. before an altar decorated with basket arrangements of keep lavender and yellow pompons and white gladioli against a background of palms.

John Edward McHugh, brother of the bride, was soloist, and Margaret McPherson of Damascus, was pianist.

Escorted to the altar by her father, and given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a gown of rose point lace over bridal satin with a molded basque bodice graced by a scalloped Sabrina neckline and long tapering sleeves. The very full skirt was fashioned by cascading tiers of lace ruffles ending in a brush train. Her finger-tip length tulle veil was caught to a cap of matching lace and she carried a cross formation of Talisman roses, white carnations, stephanotis with white lace ribbon streamers.

Lois Lynne McHugh, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and bridesmaid was Barbara Jane McHugh. Both wore full skirted dresses of lavender pima cotton with ruffled bodice and full three-quarter sleeves, complemented with white flowered headpieces, and carried baskets of yellow roses.

Linda Sue McHugh was flower girl.

Warren Richard McHugh, brother of the bride, was best man.

ther of the bride, was best man. Another brother, Raymond McHugh, Victor Mattevi and Robert England ushered.

At the reception in Huntsburg Town Hall 150 guests were registered by Nancy Mattevi. The white covered bride's table was centered with a five-tier wedding cake trimmed with white roses and lily-of-the-valley topped with tiny bride and bridegroom, and flanked with vases of mock orange blossoms and lighted branching candelabra.

Serving were Nancy Rosen-green, Connie Tolson, Mary Lee Winslow, Lois McHugh, Barbara McHugh, Margaret McPherson and Lyla Swonger.

The bride is a graduate of West Farmington High School and is a student of practical nursing at University Hospital at Cleveland. A graduate of Salem Bible Institute, Mr. Burcaw is a junior at Salem Bible College.

Following a honeymoon to Niagara Falls and Marietta, the couple will temporarily reside in Cleveland.

Two sons preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the Van Dyke Funeral Home, with Dan Davis, minister of the Church of Christ, officiating. Burial will be in Glenview Cemetery.

Friends may call from 7 to 9 tonight at the funeral home.

Accident

Langdon of East Liverpool, Seaman, who was uninjured, was cited for reckless operation and failure to have a driver's license.

Two other accidents involving only property damage were investigated by patrolmen earlier Thursday when fog obscured visibility. Just west of Kensington on Route 30 a 44-year-old trucker, Frederick Blauser Sr. of Baltimore, O., hit the rear of a car driven by Floyd E. Marshall, 21, of Kensington.

Marshall had stopped and was waiting to make a turn when the truck hit his car. The trucker was cited for failing to stop within the assured clear distance. The accident happened at 7:45 a.m.

A second accident involving a car and truck occurred Thursday morning at 6 when an auto pulled into the path of a truck on Route 14 two miles north of Route 165. Ray C. Steele, 39, of Warren, driver of the car, barely missed a serious collision when the truck driver, Robert L. Unger, 28, of Canton swerved to avoid striking Steele's car pulling onto Route 14. The Trumbull County car hit the rear of the veering truck, however. Damage to both vehicles was minor.

Driver Forfeits Bond After Traffic Mishap

William C. Hiltbrand, 41, of 663 Fair Ave., forfeited a $15 bond in Mayor's court on a reckless operation charge stemming from a collision of his car and a parked auto Thursday shortly after 1 on Franklin Ave.

Hiltbrand, attempting to squeeze between an oncoming wrecker pulling an auto and a line of parked vehicles on Franklin, pulled to the right and struck a car owned and occupied by William D. Smith of Warren. Neither was injured but police report considerable damage to the left rear of Smith's auto and the right front end of Hiltbrand's.

Silk garters were once banned in Boston.

Rogers Man Burned As Clothing Ignites

ROGERS—Arthur J. Frankenburg, 61, of the Rogers-Signal Road received burns of his face, both hands and left leg when his clothing ignited while he was using cleaning fluid to clean parts of a car engine in the garage of his home at 1:40 p.m. Thursday.

He ran to the house where his daughter extinguished the fire and called volunteer firemen at Rogers who brought him to the Salem City Hospital, where his condition is fairly good today.

forthcoming. Nationalist officials in Taipei received Washington and London reports of the Red buildup with outward calm.

Chinese Nationalist military commanders are confident they can withstand an all-out Communist assault on Quemoy, the larger of the two islands, even though it is flanked on three sides by the Chinese mainland.

Communist artillery fired 39 shells at Quemoy in an 85-minute period Thursday night. This was not unusual, however. The islands are much better defended today than in 1958 when the Communists made a determined but unsuccessful effort to crush them by artillery bombardment.

Unofficial sources in Formosa believe reports of restrictions on civilian rail travel in South China might have erroneously contributed to the conclusion that extensive military movements are underway. They said it is possible the Chinese Communists are making large-scale shifts of urban populations to rural areas in an attempt to speed up farm production.

But Hong Kong intelligence sources confirmed that the Chinese Communists are moving more planes and troops into the Fukien coastal area. Other sources indicated that the Communist military has taken over almost all railway facilities in Fukien and neighboring areas.

Circus To Present 2 Performances Here

The Sells & Gary three-ring circus will present two performances here Saturday under the sponsorship of the Salem Junior Baseball Leagues.

The performances will be given at 2 and 8 p.m. at the polo grounds north of the city on the Ellsworth Road.

Tickets may be purchased from the ball players, Fisher's News or Scott's Sports.

Proceeds will be used to help defray extra costs incurred in the formation of eight new teams in the morning leagues.

square miles. The population is about 275,000.

The $5.5-million plane was named the Chateau Chantilly.

The U.S. Coast Guard at San Juan said the wreckage was on a hillside at an elevation of about 1,500 feet.

The pilot of a Coast Guard amphibious search and rescue plane which flew over the site radioed San Juan that the plane was so badly broken up he believed there could be no survivors.

He spotted some people near the plane, the pilot said, but believed they were all Guadeloupe islanders.

In Washington, the Civil Aeronautics Board said it was sending two observers to the scene. The two, George Haldeman and Martin Clarke of CAB's Bureau of Safety, also were observers in investigating the crash of an Air France 707 in Paris June 3.

Unidentified Bike Rider Is Injured

Police report a teenage boy and girl riding a bicycle Thursday were struck by a car at 1:40 p.m. at the intersection of Howard and 3rd Sts. but they fled before they could be identified.

Mrs. Marie Whitcomb of 521 W. Pershing St., driver of the auto, said the girl's head was scratched although the boy was uninjured. They left before she could get their names, she told police.

The next county appearance of the Court of Appeals will be Sept. 12.

Washingtonville To Hold Clean-Up Day

WASHINGTONVILLE — Clean-Up Day will be held here Saturday.

Mayor Donald Vignon said the sanitation firm which services the community will haul trash from in front of residents' homes if they are placed in containers.

Wins Bliss Scholarships

David E. Guy

Jeffrey Hauer

3 Graduates Will Study Engineering In Colleges

Three Salem area youths were among the 12 winners of the 7th annual Scholarship Awards Program of the E. W. Bliss Co., it was announced today by George Baillie, Jr., Division Manager.

The local winners are Neal Sangree, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur E. Sangree, RD 2, Salem; Jeffrey L. Hauer, son of Mrs. Vera D. Hauer, 74 Main St., Washingtonville; and David E. Guy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Guy, 203 S. Market St., East Palestine.

Sangree is a graduate of West Branch High School and plans to study mechanical engineering at Case Institute of Technology.

Hauer, a graduate of Leetonia High School, also plans to attend Case and will study electrical engineering. David Guy will attend Ohio University and will study mechanical engineering. He is a graduate of East Palestine High School.

The Bliss scholarship awards are renewable each year until graduation, subject only to continued student eligibility. They are awarded by the company's scholarship board under a program established six years ago.

The Bliss scholarship program was planned to encourage qualified high school graduates to enter the fields of mechanical, electrical, welding and metallurgical engineering.

The amount of financial assistance is determined by the individual's needs.

John Buta, a Salem boy and previous winner was graduated this year with an engineering degree from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Fr. Uurko was ordained on Feb. 27, 1948 and was assistant at Holy Trinity parish in Struthers before being named pastor in Summitville on March 17.

The new pastor at Summitville, Fr. Anzivino, has been assistant at St. Anthony's since June, 1956. He was ordained Feb. 27, 1948 and has been an assistant at St. Mary, Warren; St. Mary, Conneaut; Holy Rosary, Lowellville; Assumption, Geneva, and St. Aloysius, East Liverpool.

Appeal Is Filed In Traffic Accident

LISBON—An appeal was filed Thursday with the 7th District Court of Appeals in the civil suit of Richard N. Peterson, administrator of the estate of Audrey F. Peterson against the Nationwide Insurance Co. for $2,105 claimed due in a death allegedly resulting from a traffic accident.

Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard had ruled that there was a casual connection between the collision July 12, 1960 and the premature birth of Audrey Peterson July 19, 1960 after a six-month pregnancy. He said, however, the child was not viable at the time of the collision, claiming the ordinary meaning of the word "person" as used in the insurance policy means an individual who has been born and whose life does not begin until birth.

The next county appearance of the Court of Appeals will be Sept. 12.

The board's next meeting will be Monday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

E. Palestine Principal Position Still Open

EAST PALESTINE—No applications have been received by the Board of Education for the position of high school principal, Mrs. Kathryn Conley, clerk-treasurer of the board, reported today.

The position became open with the election May 29 of former principal H. S. Laber to superintendent, succeeding T. R. Harsh whose contract was terminated by the board, effective in August.

Laber had been principal 21 years and Herish superintendent 28 years.

The board had indicated it would give preference to local applicants for the principal's job. Because of lack of response, the board said today the position would be filled on a first come-first served basis.

LEAVES BOND IN LISBON

LISBON — Tom A. Green, 27, of East Rochester forfeited a $20 bond Thursday in County Judge when he failed to appear for a hearing on a charge of failing to stop within the assured clear distance.

ally, probably no foreign student has ever felt more deeply, more genuinely sad about leaving America. "In my country it is not considered good manners to display emotions in public. It is not polite to be too joyous or to cry. Tears are reserved for your own private pillow."

TAKAYO HAS made many observations about schools and Americans in her 11 months here. She says American boys and girls do not take their school work so serious as in Japan where classes run six days a week with only a few weeks out for vacation.

She has never tried the "twist" but has gone to some of the more formal dances at Salem High.

She has found the people of Salem friendly and is surprised to see so many people going to church. "It is not this way in Japan," she said. She believes that most church-going people here put their religion into everyday practice.

The number of adults using libraries also surprises the girl. The bigness of things American made a striking impression on her. In Japan living conditions are cramped and housing features are doll-like by comparison.

American food surprised her, but "it is too heavy and too greasy" for her appetite trained on rice, fish, and vegetables. She still prefers her native dishes over the American.

SHE LAUGHS SOFTLY thinking of the times she made sukiyaki, a Japanese beef specialty, for the Lehwalds. "They liked it very much," she said, "but I made it without tofu and konnyaku. I couldn't buy them in Salem. Tofu made from soybeans is like gelatin; konnyaku is a root vegetable."

The pain of leaving America will be partly compensated for when she sees again the beloved sakura, the cherry blossoms that cover the green mountainsides.

"And I miss the mountains, the sea and oh, yes, the fish. Near her home is a peak which she and her companions love to climb, camping on its sides on Sundays, the only day there is no school."

"Have you ever seen a koto?" she asked. Here I will show you a picture, I looked, expecting to see something with a long tail and green eyes. "A koto makes music that sounds something like a harp and has 13 strings. You play it kneeling on the floor," she said. She is anxious to play her koto again at her home at Kurume-shi on Kyushu, Japan's most southerly island. Her taste in music is not strictly oriental.

When she plays the piano she favors Mozart; after that, Brahms and Mendelssohn.

HER ONE YEAR OF STUDY at Salem High will mean an extra year at her city high school before she can enroll in social studies at Tokyo University. She aspires to a career in the Japanese diplomatic service, an unthought of occupation for Japanese women before World War II. She would prefer to be stationed in America.

The Lehwalds will miss Takayo's soft steps and voice, which is sometimes no more than a strong whisper. Most amazing to Dr. and Mrs. Lehwald is the girl's energy and tenacity. A top scholar, Takayo studies far into the morning hours. "She is not dogmatic, just bulldogmatic," says her host about her persistence.

Before returning to Japan, Takayo will go to Cleveland, New England, and Washington, D.C., then to Los Angeles to Board the plane back to Kurume-shi, the mountains and the sea.

N. Waterford Market License Suspended

Donald and Effie Muir, owners of the Midway Market at the intersection of Beard Rd. and Rt. 4 in New Waterford, received a 4-day suspension of their C-2 permit from the State Liquor Board of Control for selling intoxicating liquor on Sunday, April 1 at their market.

The suspension, beginning at noon, July 2, will end July 6.

Old Dutch Hands Purity 9th Straight Loss In 'AA' Action

Stepanic's Gains Win Over Tullis'; Lincoln Ends Tailspin

League-leading Stepanic's Tavern had to come from behind to score a narrow 5-4 victory over Tullis American in Class AA action Thursday at Kelley Park.

In other loop activity Lincoln Machine snapped its three game losing streak and took over sole possession of second place with a 3-2 extra inning, triumph over Industrial Mining and Old Dutch handed Purity Deeres its ninth consecutive setback to the tune of 4-1.

Tullis' unloaded a four-hit attack in the first inning that gave the losers a quick 3-0 margin before Stepanic's gained its composure to cop victory number eight against three losses. Tullis dropped to third place with a 5-5 record.

JOE CARMELO STARTED the ball rolling for Tullis' with a single and then Bob Morlon followed with a home run. Jerry Hendrick's socked a triple after Morlon's blast and was brought home on a single by Wayne Hahn.

Stepanic's got two tallies back in the last of the second canto on a single by Jim Stonemetz and a double by Dick Dougherty coupled with an error and a sacrifice fly by Gary Painchaud.

Tullis' took a 4-2 lead in the top of the fifth on a triple by Morlon and a single by Hahn. Stepanic's came right back with a three-run surge in the sixth frame to grab the win on a double by Dave Drakulich, a single by Carson McNeely, an error, a walk and two sacrifice fly balls.

Morlon, Hendricks and Hahn paced the nine-hit Tullis attack with two hits each while five men cracked the five safeties for Stepanic's.

Lincoln Machine stopped its three-game tailspin by handing Industrial Mining its fifth loss in nine starts. Lincoln is now 6-4 in league play.

THE WINNERS JUMPED to a 1-0 lead in the first canto on a single by Gene Hammett and a triple by Casey Lease. The Mining nine tied the count in the top of the second on single by Dean Nicholson and an error.

Both teams punched one run across the saucer in the fifth frame to keep the game tied. Lincoln scored on singles by Hammett and Bob Peet and a double by Bill Pauline. Industrial Mining's Satch Altomare rapped a single to feature in the Mining half of the fifth inning.

For the next three and a half frames the teams played even ball but a single by Pauline and an error in the ninth proved to be the key to the winning run for Lincoln.

Pauline and Hammett, with two hits apiece, paced the Lincoln attack. Altomare rapped two safeties for the Mining aggregation.

Two Remain Out of 285 Starters

Finals Set Today In Junior Tourney

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — An interstate struggle for the fourth annual Mid - American Junior Match Play Golf championship was on today at Possum Run Country Club.

Two terrific teenagers, 18-year-old Bob Bourne of Oberlin and 16-year-old Jim Baske of Benton Harbor, Mich., met in the 36-hole finals for the title. They are the last survivors of 285 who started the long grind Monday.

Bourne Is Medalist
Bourne, the tournament medalist, is a 210-pound blond. Baske is a 145 - pound sharpshooter. Bourne is 7 under par for the tournament and Baske is about 4 over, but they went in today's play on even terms.

Baske, the 1961 Great Lakes bantam champion who will be a high school junior in the fall, reached the finals Thursday with a startling 7 and 6 conquest over Dave Deever, a member of Ashland's Ohio high school championship team. Baske was 2 under par for the 12 holes on which he had eight one-putt greens.

Bourne went over par for the first time in the tournament as he won a 3 and 2 semifinal verdict over Garay Goecke of Dayton, the Gem City Jaycee champion the last two years.

Baske Wins Over Deever
Baske defeated Deever following a 5 and 3 quarterfinal verdict over Volker Krajewski of Kettering. Deever had reached the semifinals with a 3 and 2 win over Bob Miller, his teammate from Ashland.

Goecke reached the semifinals with a forfeit over Gene Boni of Sandusky, who failed to appear for the 5:30 a.m. starting time. Bourne was a 3 and 2 victor over John Brandt of Elyria in the quarterfinals.

Batting — Carroll Hardy, Red Sox, hit a two-run homer for all the scoring Boston needed in a 3-1 conquest of American League-leading Cleveland.

Pitching — Whitey Ford, Yankees, troubled with an arm injury all season, shut out Baltimore on three hits before retiring after 8 2-3 innings, ending a five-game New York losing string.

Hardy Raps Decisive Homer

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland hit parade, slowed down by top-flight pitching in two of the four games with Boston, attempts to get back in the swing tonight against Washington.

Earl Wilson (5-2) and relief ace

Dick Radatz limited the league-leading Indians to three singles as Boston tripped the Tribe 3-1 Thursday and gained a split of the four-game set. Carroll Hardy's two-run homer with the decisive blow. It was the second time the former Cleveland outfielder has belted a homer to beat his former mates this season.

Purkey Holds Key to Reds' Flag Chances

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Manager Fred Hutchinson is counting on Bob Purkey to keep the Cincinnati Reds in the National League pennant race.

Cincinnati starts a three-game series with the league-leading Los Angeles Dodgers tonight with Purkey tabbed to start the first game. The Reds will move to San Francisco Monday to take on the second-place Giants. At the moment, the Reds are fourth, eight games out of the lead.

Purkey is the hottest pitcher in the majors with a 12-1 record. His victories include one over the Dodgers and two over San Francisco, while only the Houston Colt .45s have been able to tag him with a defeat.

All this success is surprising to Purkey, who is used to reading after each season that he "had a consistent season, as usual."

"No pitcher in this league should be 12-1 at this time," he observed humbly the other day. "The league is too tough."

Tonight's game will be a real test for the Reds' knuckleball artist because his opponent is Sandy Koufax, the Dodgers' strike - out king who boasts a 10-2 record.

Slo-Pitch Softball Organizational Meeting Planned

All those interested in entering teams in the Slo-Pitch Softball League are urged to attend the organizational meeting scheduled for Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Memorial Building, it was announced today by Tom Butler, secretary-treasurer of the Salem Softball Association.

The signing up of teams and working out a schedule for the first week of action are on the agenda for the session, Butler said. All games will be played on Wednesdays at Kelley Park.

The age limit for this type of softball is 27 or older with the exception of bonafide members of an organization who may be 21-years of age.

OSU'S Tidmore Inks Browns Pact

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns have signed a pair of Big 10 linemen—Stan Szurek of Purdue and Sam Tidmore of Ohio State—and hope one of them can take over the vacant right linebacker job.

Both Szurek and Tidmore are all-around athletes and hail from Cleveland. Szurek was the second baseman on Purdue's baseball team. Tidmore competed as a shot putter and sprinter for the Buckeyes' track team.

Lehigh will have co-captains in football next fall. They are Pat Clark of York, Pa., and Charles Gibson of Verona, Pa.

and induced Bubba Phillips to pop one back to the mound. Radatz then limited the Indians to a single by Jerry Kindall in the ninth.

In the last series in Boston when Cleveland took four out of five, the Indians rapped out 80 hits and scored 51 runs. This time, in a four-game series, Cleveland had only 21 hits and 12 runs.

Dick Donovan (10-2) seeks his second victory over the Senators in the opener of a four-game series tonight. He will be opposed by Bennie Daniels (1-8).

Miss Wright Loses Touch In Tourney

PLAINFIELD, N.J. (AP)—The favorite Mickey Wright, found herself seven strokes back of the co-leaders in the J.E. McAuliffe Golf Tournament for women professionals today, after the first of four rounds.

Miss Wright, of Dallas, hardly justified her favorite role on the first day of play over the par 73 Plainfield Country Club course Thursday. The winner of the U.S. Women's Open three of the last four years took a 38-41-79.

Mary Lena Faulk of Sea Island, Ga., and Kathy Whitworth of Jal, N.M., each hit 72s to lead the 27 pros in the field.

The girls are shooting for $9,000 in prize money in the tournament, a 72-hole medal play event.

In third place, at even par 73, was Carol Mann of Olympia Fields, Ill. Beth Stone of Muskogee, Okla., and Barbara Romack of Grossingers, N.Y., were in fourth position with 74s.

Eight Titles On Line In AAUCarnival

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

WALNUT, Calif. (AP)—Eight championships with several world records endangered, go on the line tonight as the National AAU track and field carnival starts a two-night run.

More than 400 athletes are gathered for this 74th annual meet and such world title claimants as Dallas Long, Frank Budd and Robert Hayes are scheduled to compete in the opening program.

The site is Mt. San Antonio College's Memorial Stadium, a 12,000-seat arena tucked away in the rolling San Jose hills near Los Angeles.

Meet director Hilmer Lodge listed no less than eight world records which he feels are in danger, including tonight's 100-yard dash, the 120-yard high hurdles, the shot put and broad jump.

Other final events tonight are the 440-yard hurdles, the javelin and the 6-mile run.

Dallas Long, who has a claim in for the world shot put mark at 65 feet, 10 1/2 inches, and Gary Gubner of New York, with a best of 64-11, dominate the event.

The 100 features Frank Budd, who holds the world time of 9.2; Hayes, who has tied 9.2, and Harry Jerome of Oregon, who hopes to improve his best of 9.3.

The 120-yard high hurdles might well be the top race of the evening. A veteran of 23, Hayes Jones, from Detroit, faces tough opposition from Jerry Tarr of Oregon. Tarr has a best mark of 13.3 this year.

Of their first 18 victories in 1962 the Los Angeles Angels won 14 by three runs or less.

Mahaffey Blanks Cubs In Only NL Tilt; Chisox, Tigers Triumph

Ford Gains 3-0 Win; Angels Trip A's 3-1, Scramble Into 2nd Place

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the American League has the shakes today, there are two good reasons for it.

One is Whitey Ford. The other is Mickey Mantle.

Together, those New York Yankee roommates may hold the key to the league's pennant race. They have been on the injured list—Ford with an ailing arm, Mantle with an injured leg—and the perennial champion Yankees went into a tailspin to fourth place.

Ford Hurls Shutout

But Ford, a lefty who compiled a spectacular 25-4 record last season, sent a tremor through the league with a three-hit shutout of Baltimore Thursday.

And now the rest of the league is watching Mantle, the switch-hitting Yankee star. Mickey is going to make the big test of his ailing legs in Detroit tonight.

Ford's 3-0 effort over Baltimore marked his first victory since May 9, and ended a five-game Yankee losing string. The win pulled the Yanks to within three games of the top when leading Cleveland lost to Boston 3-1.

The Los Angeles Angels scrambled into second place, four percentage points ahead of Minnesota, on the strength of a 3-1 triumph over Kansas City while the Chicago White Sox beat the Twins 6-2. Detroit stopped Washington 6-3.

Mahaffey Beats Cubs

Art Mahaffey's five-hit shutout brought Philadelphia a 3-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs in the only National League game scheduled.

Ford didn't leave much to guesswork in his effort against the Orioles. He allowed only three hits before developing a blister on his pitching hand. He retired after 8-2-3 innings and Marshall Bridges finished up.

Clete Boyer and Hector Lopez drove in the first two New York runs and Bill Skowron's 10th homer finished up the scoring.

Chicago jammed in four runs in the first inning, then retreated behind the excellent relief pitching of Eddie Fisher (3-3) to beat the Twins. Fisher allowed only two hits in 7-2-3 innings of relief. A two-run double by Al Smith was the key hit in the White Sox big first inning.

Belinsky Gains 7-Hit Win

Bo Belinsky, the Angels' colorful lefty, pitched Los Angeles into percentage control of second with a seven-hitter. Belinsky got help from Billy Moran's run-scoring triple and Felix Torres' homer. Purnal Goldy's single in the seventh drove in the run that broke a 3-3 tie and put the Tigers ahead to stay against Washington. The Senators got homers from Chuck Hinton and Harry Bright, with Mike Roarke and Norm Cash hitting homers for the winners. Mahaffey's shutout snapped a five-game Cub winning string and evened his record at 8-8.

Hot Stove Leagues

Batters were not very polite to pitchers in Hot Stove League action Thursday as a total of 105 runs were scored and 76 hits were pounded out in the six encounters played.

Class E

Undefeated league-leader, Famous Market scored a 12-0 victory over Leetonia CIO 4022 to roll its record to 5-0.

The Market nine crossed the plate with at least one tally in every canto but the second frame while Leetonia put all of its runs together in the second inning.

LEETONIA RAPPED only three hits in its big frame but was aided by seven walks in chalking up its 10 runs.

Pacing the 11-hit attack of Famous Market was George Begalla with a homer, double and two brudery with three hits paced the Bank attack.

Mullins suffered its second straight setback and fifth in six starts as Fisher's News squeaked by with a 4-3 victory.

The losers moved to a 2-0 lead in the first inning on a walk and a single by Gary Shuster. Fisher's scored one run in the third inning and tied the count in the fifth with Howard Fowler rapping a single in the canto.

After Mullins forged into the lead 3-2 in the sixth inning on singles by Walt Johnson and Byron Miller; Fisher's tallied runs in the last of the sixth and seventh frames.

FOWLER WITH TWO doubles and Jim Milligan, Dave Bradley and Fred Bowen with a two-bagger each paced the Fisher victory.

Steve Brantingham rapped a triple to provide the big blow for the losers.

Scott's Sports got past the Eagles forged to a 7-4 lead but

10 behind the three hit pitching of Jack Brantingham.

After three innings of play the

Eagles forged to a 7-4 lead but

Scott's was not going to be denied victory as the winners ended the game with a six-run burst in the seventh canto.

Gary Polder with a homer and a triple led the Scott's attack. He was helped out by John Yingling with two hits and Dave Greene with a double.

Mick Hilliard with a triple and

Val Altamora with a double paced the Eagles hitting department.

Class H
Stark's Colonial moved to within a half a game of league-leading

Moose Lodge with a 16-10 triumph over the Independent Hose crew.

Stark's is now 6-1 in loop play while the Moose is undefeated with a 6-0 mark.

THE WINNERS POURED nine

runs across the plate in the first inning on six singles and a walk.

They added three more in the second, one in the third and three more in the fourth.

The Hose aggregation managed to collect seven big runs in the third canto on four singles but could not overhaul the big Stark's lead.

Randy Handlick and Chris

Galchick paced the Stark's attack with two hits. Denny Nieder-hiser rapped a triple for the winners.

Tim Mulheman with two singles led the Hose aggregation.

Dairy Isle broke a three-game losing streak by dropping Ailes

Insurance by a 6-3 count.

The winners moved to a 1-0 lead in the first frame and then found themselves trailing 2-1 after four and a half innings as Ailes put together singles by Jim Marks and Merle McQuiston to take the lead.

The Dairy Isle nine exploded for five runs in the last of the fourth behind a four-hit onslaught that featured a homer by Dave Shellenberg and doubles by Jay Stewart and Dan Hippley.

Craig Anderson delivered the big blow for Ailes, a double in the first inning.

Ohio Racing

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Carroll V. Adios went straight to the top from the starting gate and beat Gay Keystone by a length in the featured eighth race at Hamilton Raceway Thursday night. The winner did the mile in 2:07 4-5 and paid $11.60.

Gay Keystone returned $9.20 and McDaniel O. Boy showed for $2.60.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Orville won the featured event at River Downs Thursday to pay $11.00, but all spectators agreed States Rights in the seventh race put on a better show.

States Rights won the five-furlong event by 1½ lengths, but before the race started he threw his rider on the parade to the post and went off on a jaunt around the parking lot and behind the grandstand. Outrider Ray Thompson corralled the spunky 2-year-old there and led him back to the track.

Coed Golfer Hosts, Then Beats Foe

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—The first two days of the 18th Women's Collegiate Golf Tournament, Miss Sandy Palmer of North Texas State took her opponent out for breakfast and then beat her less than four hours later.

Today she played defending champion Judy Hoetmer in a semi-final match.

Miss Hoetmer, a June graduate of the University of Washington, played strongly Thursday as she defeated Sharon Fladoos of the University of Iowa 2 and 1.

Miss Palmer came from three down at the turn and upset Helen Marie Weiland of Rosemont, 1 up in 19 holes.

Julie Hull of Anderson, Ind., who plays for Purdue, upset medalist June Robinson of Oregon State, 2 and 1. Her opponent today is Carol Sorenson of Arizona State University, who beat Mary Jo Campbell of New Mexico 1-up.

The tournament winds up Saturday with a 36-hole final round.

Dave Lloyd Missing, Lions Keep Looking

DETROIT (AP)—Lost: One 246-pound linebacker—Dave Lloyd. If found, notify the Detroit Lions pronto.

"We might even have to offer a reward," said Bud Erickson, assistant general manager of the National Football League club. "We've sent wires, letters and tried to call Lloyd at several places and just can't locate him."

Lloyd came to the Lions in their six-player trade last March with the Cleveland Browns. Coach George Wilson talked with Lloyd once shortly after the deal. Since then he has vanished as far as the Lions are concerned.

Palmer, Nicklaus Meet In Exhibition

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohioans will get to see a rematch of the playoff round in last week's National Open Golf Tournament.

Open king Jack Nicklaus of Columbus announced Thursday he and Arnold Palmer will play an exhibition match over the Scioto Country Club course here Aug. 1.

Asked if he thought he could beat Palmer again, Nicklaus chuckled:

"That's a tough question. A match with Arnie is always a pretty tough thing. I guess we'll just have to wait and see."

Today Columbus turned out to officially welcome it's favorite golf son. The 22-year-old two-time National Amateur champ was honored with a ticker-tape parade through the downtown area and presented the key to the city by Mayor Ralston Westlake.

A word from
Old Country Store

When you save stamps you can have your choice of more than 3,000 items. Do you know if you save cash you have your choice of a million items and it isn't at one redemption center either, it is any place in the world. The dollar bill is really the most desired item in the country, it should not be worshiped but it should be respected, for what it can do for you and others. It is a medium of exchange that represents hard work that you or someone else had to put out to come by it.

So They Say

Shakespeare is poison at the box office. It's a shame, but it would be sudden death to call the film "Othello." We are not even going to have Shakespeare's name on the credits at the beginning of the film.--Director John Ainsworth, about to start on movie, "The Moore of Venice."
